

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

This invention relates to new stable oral pharmaceutical formulations prepared by covering an nucleus formed by a core with a first hydrophobic polymer layer, a second layer coating the first layer, wherein said second layer comprises one or more labile pharmaceutical compounds in one or more acceptable hydrophobic excipients, and an optional third enteric polymer layer.